Did You Know?

Did you know that you can change permissions in our app so that your photos don't get saved directly to your gallery? They'll still be saved to the app but won't be stored on your device.

Why is this important? If the storage on your mobile device gets too full, your device performance will be impacted.

So, if you take a lot of photos using our apps and want to free up space on your device, maybe you should consider changing app permissions.

On Apple devices, go to Settings and then Privacy, and then look for "Photos". This will pull up a list of apps that have access to your photo gallery. Find our app(s) and then change the setting to "None".

For Android devices, go to Settings, Apps, and scroll to find our app(s). From there, tap on the Permissions option and then select Storage and change setting to Deny.

Checklist Updates

For those working in the Maritime Industry, we just released a new checklist covering 29 CFR 1917 for Marine Terminals and 29 CFR 1918 for Longshoring Operations will be released soon!

What Would Happen If...?

What would happen if you didn't wear your safety glasses? What would happen if you bypassed that guard? What would happen if you didn't wear your seat belt on the forklift?

Asking questions like this to your employees can reveal quite a bit about your safety culture. You just need to pay attention to the responses.

If the standard response goes something like this...

My boss would yell at me.
I'd get written up.
I'd get sent home.

Then, you might have a problem.

But, what if the response is this...

I could get hurt.

Well, maybe your safety culture is stronger than you think!
